Section 3: Breakaway Wall Certification Statement

Certificate must be signed and sealed by a Registered Professional Engineer or Architect. A signed/sealed copy of this statement must also appear on the approved construction plans detailing Breakaway Wall construction.

I certify that I have developed or reviewed the structural design, plans, and specifications for construction of Breakaway Walls and that the proposed design and methods of construction to be used for the Breakaway Walls are in accordance with accepted standards of practice for meeting the following provisions:

- ⊇ Breakaway Walls have a design safe loading resistance of not less than 10 and no more than 20 pounds per square foot.
- Breakaway Wall Collapse shall result from a water load less than that which would occur during the Base Flood.
- The elevated portion of the structure and supporting foundation system shall not be subject to collapse, displacement, or other structural damage due to the combined effects of wind and water loads acting simultaneously on all structure components, structural and non-structural.
- The pile or column foundation and structure attached thereto is anchored to resist floatation, collapse, and lateral movement due to the effects of wind and water loads acting simultaneously on all structure components, structural and non-structural.
- The potential for scour and erosion at the foundation has been anticipated for conditions associated with the Base Flood, including wave action.
- The bottom of the lowest horizontal structural member of the lowest floor (including piles and columns) is elevated to the DFE.
- wind loading values used are those required by applicable State or local building standards.
- Water loading values used are those associated with the Base Flood.
- Enclosed space is used solely for parking of vehicles, building access, or limited storage of maintenance items.
